

How to get to the so-called World's tiniest park/garden

1. Find I-5
2. Get on going in the direction of Talent, OR (from Medford, that's South)
3. Exit at the Talent interchange and go West on W. Valley Road.
4. Shortly after you cross US 99 you will come to a traffic circle. The garden is in a paved park area on the other (W) side of the circle – more or less in front of the Talent Irrigation District Building.

Being tiny, the garden is not really visible from the street.

There is no parking close by – you will have to go a little farther and park on the street or behind the Camelot Theatre and walk back.

Above: Central Talent in the vicinity of the park. The piles of rubble on the left side of the picture are leftovers from the Almeda fire, but may have been cleaned up by the time you get there.